Clark County Medical Society Welcomes Yanné Givens

LAS VEGAS (May 17, 2013) - The staff and members of the Clark County Medical Society (CCMS) are excited to welcome Las Vegas native Yanné Givens to the team, as the Community & Public Relations Specialist.

Givens received a Master of Journalism degree from the University of Maryland in 2010, where she was awarded the Eleanor Merrill Graduate Fellowship from the Philip Merrill College of Journalism. Prior to her graduate studies, Givens earned her bachelor's degree in public relations from the John H. Johnson School of Communications at Howard University in Washington, D.C.

Executive Director Loretta Moses said, "Yanné is a welcomed asset to our team. We are excited to bring our public relations in-house, and Yanné has definitely hit the ground running. We look forward to expanding our community and public relations outreach with her on our side!" Moses added, "I think she is a fantastic addition to our organization."

CCMS President Dr. George Alexander also voiced his enthusiasm by saying, "One of our organizational goals is to make our community aware of the high quality medical care available to our patients, as well as unique specialty care they may be unaware of. We believe bringing Yanné on board will help us better achieve this goal." Alexander announced, "On behalf of the entire CCMS Board of Trustees, we are so pleased to have Yanné on board."

Givens began her work with CCMS by attending the Nevada State Medical Association's 109th Annual Meeting in Lake Tahoe, Nev., from April 26-28, 2013. She will take over as the society's primary point of contact for all media personnel effective immediately.
